NEWS FROM THE CHAMBERS

A NOTICE FROM OUR SHIRE PRESIDENT

Residents of Victoria Plains will be aware of the movement of our immediate past CEO, Harry Hawkins to the Shire of Sandstone at his request. His contract was due to expire 31st of December this year but he asked Council for early release to enable him to take up this new position. Council agreed. A vote of thanks to him for his long years of service was carried with acclamation and, on your behalf, Council wished him well in his, and wife Dawn's, future.

Some of the highlights of his term at Victoria Plains firstly as Finance Manager and then as CEO include :-

- major improvement in the Shire's financial stability and security by way of reserves going from near zero to $1m while still upgrading and modernising our machinery and vehicle fleet
- completion of the sealing of the Lime Sand route
- provision of emergency and stock water supplies in each of our "towns" ( Piawaning Desalination plant is nearing completion) to effectively drought proof the Shire
- major improvement to the Calingiri sports pavilion and oval plus new netball/tennis court
- purchase of a new community car to assist residents in need of transport for appointments

As your Shire President I say "Thank You Harry " for your long and dedicated Service to our Shire and wish you success, fulfilment, good health and peace for the future.

The process of finding a new CEO is well underway and in the meantime Ian Graham will be Acting CEO. He would welcome your interaction on issues relating to Shire business.

David Lovelock
Shire President

New Watering WA rebates open for farms

Member for Moore Shane Love MLA has welcomed the announcement of a $4.4 million Watering WA rebates scheme for farmers in dryland agricultural areas who are looking to develop and improve on-farm water supplies.

“The Department of Water’s popular Farm Water Rebates Scheme now falls under the State Government’s $30 million Watering WA initiative, made possible by Royalties for Regions,” Mr Love said.

“Watering WA has extended the existing Farm Water Rebates Scheme to farms connected to scheme water and the maximum value of rebates is increasing from $15,000 to $20,000. Farmers not connected to scheme can continue to apply for funding.

“The scheme officially starts on 1 October 2016, however farmers can register their interest from now.”

The funding builds on more than $36 million spent over the past two decades building water capacity on farms not connected to the scheme in dryland agricultural areas.

Farmers can claim 50 per cent of the cost of water supply plans, up to a maximum value of $500, and a further rebate of up to $250 for any call back visits by an approved water auditor.

“Once the plan has been approved by the Department of Water, farmers can apply for up to 50 per cent of the cost of a range of infrastructure improvements to dams and catchments, tanks, pipes and pumping systems including solar energy, up to a maximum value of $20,000,” Mr Love said.

“This supports the wider Watering WA initiative to make hundreds of millions of litres of water available for community and industry use in agricultural towns and communities, reducing reliance on costly scheme water for non-potable uses.”

The rebates support key improvements such as harvesting of water through improving catchments for dams, new guttering on farm sheds, increased storage of harvested water with new and enlarged dams, and improved on-farm distribution.

“This investment ultimately aims to support long term growth in regional economies,” Mr Love said.

Farmers can register their interest in the scheme now by going to:

www.water.wa.gov.au/wateringwa, calling 1800 780 300 or emailing wateringwa@water.wa.gov.au

Nominations open for 2016 WA Youth Awards

West Australian youth will again be honoured for their inspirational and positive contributions at the 2016 WA Youth Awards.

Member for Moore Shane Love MLA said nominations for the prestigious awards were now open and encouraged all members of the community to nominate an outstanding young person.

“The WA Youth Awards recognises the achievements of young people aged 12 to 25 from across WA for their contributions to the community, as well as outstanding youth groups and organisations that serve and support the State’s young people,” Mr Love said.

“In Moore there are many young people who work tirelessly to facilitate change, assist others and make a positive difference in their communities.

“It is important that they are recognised for their contribution to their communities, particularly in regional WA.”

Nominations are open for the following categories:

- Minister for Youth's Outstanding Youth Worker Award
- Commissioner for Children and Young People Participate Award
- ECU Community Leadership Award
- Organisational Achievement Award – Small Organisation
- Organisational Achievement Award – Large Organisation
- Positive Achievement Award
- Cultural Endeavours Award
- Active Participation Award

The WA Young Person of the Year will be selected from the pool of category winners and will have the opportunity to travel throughout WA to participate in youth-related events and activities.

The awards are presented by the Youth Affairs Council of WA in partnership with the State Government and supported by Lotterywest. The 2016 winners will be announced at the WA Youth Awards ceremony on November 25.

The Nationals WA welcome first Foreign Ownership Register report

Member for Moore Shane Love MLA has welcomed the recent release of the Federal Government's first report from the Agriculture Land Register.

The Agriculture Land Register was established by the Federal Government in July 2015 and requires persons with an interest in agricultural land to register their interest, regardless of the value of the land, through the Australian Taxation Office.

The purpose of the register is to accurately track how much Australian land is owned by foreign interests, and was driven by The Nationals as an important tool in increasing scrutiny and transparency of investment into Australian agriculture.

Mr Love said that while investment partnerships between foreign investors and Australian land owners should be encouraged, a strong focus remained on ensuring the Federal Government was aware of how much agricultural land is foreign owned.

"Foreign investment has been an important foundation of Australia's agriculture industry and it will remain necessary to ensuring a viable agricultural sector into the future," Mr Love said.

"The first report found that foreign investors hold just 13.6 per cent of all Australian agricultural land, most of which is owned by investors from the United Kingdom.

"This provides a clearer picture of investment in Australian agriculture and will help to clear up some of the myths around the level of foreign ownership in the sector."

Western Australia had a lower rate of foreign ownership than the national average, with 10.9 per cent of agricultural land in foreign hands.

In 2013, The Nationals WA passed a motion at the Party's Annual State Conference supporting the establishment of a process to monitor foreign farms and pastoral ownership in Australia, a policy which was adopted by the Federal Party.

Mr Love said The Nationals WA had recognised the importance of securing inward investment by delivering its "game changing" WA Open for Business policy earlier this year.

"The $20 million WA Open for Business strategy is aimed at attracting investment into WA's agri-food sector and supports the sector as a whole by improving the alignment of the various agencies working to promote WA agribusiness," Mr Love said.

WA Open for Business was a key election commitment by The Nationals WA and is part of the $300 million Royalties for Regions-funded Seizing the Opportunity in Agriculture initiative.
