Hello from the Shire President

Autumn is always a busy and productive time across the Shire of Victoria Plains, as our farming community prepares machinery and paddocks, and even commences seeding on the back of a little cyclone rain. At the same time, many of our valued community groups are holding their Annual General Meetings, ensuring strong local leadership continues across our towns and organisations. With an early Easter and the school holidays also falling during this period, it truly is a full and active time for families, volunteers and businesses alike, and I encourage everyone to take care and support one another.

The March Ordinary Council Meeting was held on the last Wednesday of the month. For those interested in the formal record of Council decisions, Minutes are available on our website, including a video recording of the meeting.

During the March meeting, Council adopted the second Budget Review for the 2025–2026 financial year. This review process is an important part of legislative governance, ensuring Council maintains oversight of the Shire's financial performance throughout the year. Council acknowledged there is a clear need to closely monitor operational expenditure, particularly given the ongoing impacts of the fuel crisis which continues to influence costs across core services and operations.

Council also endorsed amendments to the Financial Management Policy relating to the use of corporate credit cards. These updates strengthen internal controls and provide clearer guidance to staff, ensuring continued transparency and accountability in how public funds are managed.

I attended the March meeting of the Shire's Audit, Risk and Improvement Committee, where it was particularly pleasing to see former Councillor Mr David Lovelock serving as Independent Chair. His experience and knowledge of local government governance continue to be a valuable asset to the Shire. We also welcome Mr Robert Dew as the appointed Deputy Chair for the Audit, Risk and Improvement Committee.

Over recent weeks, the Chief Executive Officer and I have continued to represent the Shire of Victoria Plains at several meetings relating to Western Australia's Energy Transition and the implementation of the State Government's Community Benefits Guidelines.

As one of only four local governments selected to participate in the Community Benefits Pilot Project, Victoria Plains is working closely with the Shires of Dandaragan, West Arthur and Narrogin to help shape how community benefits from renewable energy developments are delivered and governed in regional communities. The participating local governments are meeting on a fortnightly basis as part of this process. This work is important to ensure that regional communities hosting major infrastructure projects receive fair and lasting benefits, and that local voices are central to decision-making.

As ANZAC day approaches, I encourage all residents to take the opportunity to attend the Shire's ceremony at the Victoria Plains War Memorial, Saturday 25th April 11am. ANZAC Day remains one of the most significant days on our national calendar. It is a time to pause, reflect and honour the service and sacrifice of those who have served our country, as well as to acknowledge the ongoing contribution of our veterans and defence personnel.

Hello from the CEO

Over the past month, the Shire of Victoria Plains has continued to play a leading role in Western Australia's renewable energy transition, while also actively managing risks associated with fuel supply disruptions affecting regional communities.

Presenting at the WA Clean Energy Summit

In March, I attended and presented at the WA Clean Energy Summit in Perth, alongside leaders from government, industry and local government from across the State and Australia in general.

My presentation focused on lessons emerging from the newly formed Community Benefits Pilot and the critical role local governments play in building trust, establishing sound governance, and ensuring communities have confidence in how renewable energy projects are developed. Victoria Plains' experience is attracting interest from other regions, with strong interest in how community benefits can be managed in a fair, transparent and locally-focused way.

This reinforces the Shire's position as a trusted voice in renewable energy governance and ensures our community is represented in decisions that will shape Western Australia's energy future.

Renewable Energy Community Benefits Pilot

Victoria Plains is one of four local governments selected by the State Government to participate in the Renewable Energy Community Benefits Pilot. This pilot is designed to test how community benefit funding from large-scale renewable energy projects should be planned, governed and delivered before the approach is rolled out more broadly across Western Australia.

The pilot focuses on ensuring that community benefits are:

- guided by local priorities,
- transparently governed, and
- capable of delivering long-term social, economic and cultural outcomes for host communities.

As part of this work, the Shire is contributing to the development of practical governance frameworks and Community Benefits Plan models. This includes addressing important issues such as decision-making arrangements, cross-boundary projects, and how communities, Traditional Owners, local government, industry and State agencies work together effectively.

At the local level, the Shire is also preparing for how community priorities would be identified and reflected in any future Community Benefits Plan, should projects proceed. This preparation helps ensure that, over time, benefits are aligned with what matters most to our local communities.

Fuel Supply and Shire Operations

Alongside this work, the Shire has been actively managing risks associated with ongoing fuel supply disruptions across Western Australia.

Fuel, as it is for you, is essential to the delivery of key Shire services, including road maintenance, waste collection, community safety and emergency response. While fuel remains a broader national and State issue, the Shire's operational fuel needs are currently being met and essential services continue to operate as normal.

To manage this risk, I have implemented a dedicated Fuel Governance and Action Plan, which operates as an operational sub-plan of the Shire's Business Continuity Plan. This plan provides clear authority, monitoring and decision-making arrangements to ensure fuel is prioritised for essential services should supply constraints increase.

Key actions undertaken by the Shire include:

- establishing a Fuel Governance Committee to oversee fuel-related decisions;
- closely monitoring fuel levels and maintaining an emergency reserve for critical operations;
- working directly with our fuel supplier to support continuity of supply;
- reviewing service priorities so fuel is used where it is needed most; and
- coordinating with regional and State agencies where required, which also includes reporting on problems experienced with supply, theft and any other issues that businesses and farming experience across the district.

The Shire will continue to monitor the situation closely and adjust arrangements as necessary to protect essential services and community safety.

Hello Residents and Ratepayers

The budget process has started for 26-27 and like all of us, will be affected by the current fuel issue. The shire has already received requests from some suppliers ranging from a 10-20% price increase. Whilst this can be absorbed somewhat for the current financial year, the full impact will be in 2026-27 and it will be end users that will have to bear this cost.

The positive is that the shire has essentially completed most of its capital works for 2025-26 and anything carried forward is grant funded which will be subject to contingency or requests for additional funding.

The shire will attempt to reduce this spike on ratepayers but it will be a difficult budget and is likely to have a reduction on some of the forward plans and services we have in place.

Strategic

Through the Sport and Recreation Master Plan the shire held a meeting with relevant sporting clubs on concept plans for the Calingiri Sports Pavilion. Whilst still in a preliminary stage there was good discussion on what this may look like with the Architect in the progress of putting these plans together for council to review. Unfortunately with budgetary impacts I think this is going to be difficult to land anything in 2026-27 but at least there will be a vision to work towards.

To finish on a positive note – we hope to have an announcement for the coming NAIDOC week.

Subdivision Works Progress Update

Construction continues to progress steadily on the Shire's subdivision project, with limestone retaining wall construction and roadworks now underway.

The limestone retaining walls are being constructed using reconstituted limestone blocks, selected for their durability and ability to blend with the surrounding landscape. The walls are designed to manage changes in ground levels across the site, providing structural support and long-term stability in accordance with engineering specifications. Subsoil drainage will be incorporated within the walls to reduce pressure, ensuring the longevity and performance of the structures. The retaining walls will also assist in preventing erosion and maintaining safe batter slopes adjacent to road corridors and homesites on each boundary.

Concurrent with the retaining works, road construction activities have commenced, including bulk earthworks and preparation of the road subgrade. These works form the foundation for future pavement construction and will support safe vehicle access through the subdivision.

Residents may notice increased construction activity as these works progress with the northern boundary fence to installed shortly.

The accompanying images show the limestone retaining walls under construction and early road formation works, demonstrating continued progress on site. Further updates will be provided as the project advances.

Hello everyone

Wow what a month!! I know I say this a lot but this month I feel we have been up and down and all ways in between.

Firstly, a huge congratulations to New Norcia on being named a finalist for the Tiny Tourism Town Award! Please scan the QR code on page 20 to cast your vote and support New Norcia. This is a significant achievement and a wonderful recognition of the positive work and activity taking place within the community. The Monastery, the Tourist Centre, and ESA have all played an important role in reaching this milestone. Congratulations to everyone involved on this well-deserved recognition.

The fuel prices are rising, and everyone is a bit cautious on what is happening. If you can give me any information on how you are changing your work/personal life for this, please let me know! Cancelled Easter plans/Holidays scaling back on Cropping programs or anything else, we are feeding information through to higher government on what's happening in our area, so we need to know what's happening.

On this there has been some fuel theft within the Shire so please make sure vehicles are locked up, try not to leave machinery close to the sides of the road unattended and keep an eye on your bowsers and security systems. Bolgart Primary School did a Clean Up Australia Day that I was lucky enough to be part of. Not a huge amount of rubbish which is a great reflection of the community being vigilant with their rubbish. I look forward to being a part of the events at Calingiri and Yerecoin Schools next month.

Yerecoin P&C hosted their Ladies Night in New Norcia that was a success again. Great food and company. Well done for all involved.

The Northern Valleys are getting our own Hello Perth Map!! This is exciting news for our area. We will be joining the likes of Margaret River and the Avon Vally with a map through Bindoon, Moora, Gingin and of course Victoria Plains. As soon as the 24 advertising spots are filled these will be printed and distributed thought the State. 300-400 of these maps are handed out every day at the Perth airport alone.

The Calingiri Library Official Opening Day will be held on 5 May, 10:30 am. I hope to see a few locals come down, It's been great to have so many people using the space so far.

Hello Everyone

March was a busy month for the Emergency Management Team. We held the first Shire of Victoria Plains and Shire of Wongan-Ballidu Joint Local Emergency Management meeting for the year with focus on Cyclone preparedness and the ongoing fuel crisis.

While TC Narelle passed the shire without issue, this reminds us all to not be complacent as disaster can strike any time of year. I would encourage everyone to familiarise themselves with Emergency WA website and App. This is the only Official source of information for current alerts and Warning for Fire, flood, Storm, Cyclones and earthquakes in WA.

We would also like to take the time to thank all our brigade volunteers and farm responders for their support over this bushfire season.

Unrestricted Burning

As of 1 April 2025, the Shire of Victoria Plains has officially entered the Unrestricted Burning Period. While burning permits are not currently required, landowners and occupiers should still follow the guidelines below:

- Register your burn with DFES on 1800 198 140. It only takes 2 minutes and helps reduce unnecessary 000 calls.
- Monitor weather conditions before, during, and after your burn. Always patrol the area post burn and ensure it is fully extinguished.
- Notify your neighbours in advance.
- Ensure smoke does not affect roads, traffic, or nearby townsites.
- Ensure fire breaks are in place before burning.
- Have sufficient firefighting resources available throughout the burn.
- Report any out-of-control burns to 000 immediately.

If you have any questions, please contact the Shire of Victoria Plains.

Barking Dogs – Causes and Solutions

Barking is normal dog behaviour, but excessive barking can disturb neighbours and lead to formal complaints. Understanding the causes – and the simple steps owners can take – helps keep our community calm and respectful.

Why Dogs Bark

Most nuisance barking comes from everyday needs not being met. Common triggers include:

- Boredom or lack of stimulation
- Anxiety or distress, including separation anxiety
- Insufficient exercise
- Territorial behaviour toward passing people or animals
- Social isolation or long periods alone

Reducing Nuisance Barking

Owners can often resolve barking with small, consistent changes:

- Provide daily exercise suited to the dog's age and breed
- Offer enrichment such as chew toys, puzzle feeders, or scent games
- Reduce triggers by blocking fence gaps or bringing dogs indoors during busy times
- Build independence with short training sessions that teach calm behaviour
- Ensure regular social contact and interaction
- Seek professional advice if barking is linked to anxiety or behavioural issues

A well-exercised, mentally stimulated dog is far less likely to bark excessively.

How the Shire Handles Barking Complaints

When a complaint is lodged, the Shire follows a fair and structured process:

- Contacting the dog owner to discuss the concern
- Collecting evidence such as barking diaries or recordings
- Observing and assessing the frequency and cause
- Providing guidance to help resolve the issue
- Taking formal action under the Dog Act 1976 if the nuisance continues

The aim is always cooperative resolution with minimal stress for all involved.

Neighbour-to-Neighbour Communication

Many barking issues can be resolved early through a polite conversation. Neighbours are encouraged to:

- Approach the owner respectfully
- Share what they've noticed, including times or possible triggers
- Work together on simple solutions before the matter escalates

Open communication often prevents misunderstandings and avoids the need for formal complaints.

The Senior class have been busy. In writing we have been focused on how to create paragraphs while writing a narrative. The focus has been on creating the opening paragraph that sets the scene with a character and the setting. A hidden garden, an abandoned mansion and the beach are places where some stories are set. These will be worth publishing when the whole narrative is done.

In Maths the class have been practicing times tables. When we are confident with our knowledge, we have a test with Miss Woodhouse to earn stars. The chart is already filling up with many stars.

In Digital Technology we are learning the basics of coding. Did you know that coding is giving instruction to a computer? We are going to create our own code to make a computer friend. But first we need to practice writing and following instructions. We missed some key steps in the peanut butter and jam sandwich task, and the origami fish was harder than it looked.

Typing.com fastest typers

As we have progressed with our typing skills some students are really picking up speed. Jacob, Nick and Harley have all had a week where they were the fastest. Remember this program can be accessed at home if students want to work on their typing skills for homework

In the early childhood room, we have still been focusing on "Ourselves" and we have been discussing our four PBS values (Respect, Reach Responsibility and Resilience). This has helped to establish school expectations, routines and emotions. We have been reading and retelling the story "The Gingerbread Man" and we all made our own Gingerbread Man! Luckily, we all got to enjoy eating them before they got away!

We are moving on to "Houses" as we focus on 2D and 3D shapes. The children have been enjoying the new play areas, such as our 'Shape Corner'.

Our veranda now has some lovely railing, so we have been doing some activities outside, such as water play, to keep cool on the hot days.

The Literacy program is in full swing now and the children are enthusiastically working through the lessons which is great to see.

Junior Room students have been learning all about playgrounds, toys and schooling in the past and comparing them to today. They were shocked to hear that in some places children had to go to school on Saturdays and that children had to work after school to help make money for the family! During Maths they continue to develop number sense, are practising skip counting and using simple strategies to solve addition problems. We are also excited to have Mrs Glatz join us in the Junior Room and we hope you're enjoying teaching our lovely students
